ASSAULT CHARGES FILED AGAINST THREE DEFENDANTS IN CONNECTION WITH LABOR DAY BRAWL

San Diego, CA—Misdemeanor charges have been filed against three individuals who were involved in a confrontation with San Diego Police on Labor Day Monday in Pacific Beach. City Attorney Michael Aguirre announced that the defendants were arraigned late this afternoon in San Diego Superior Court and released on their own recognizance by the court.

The defendants include 32 year-old Kenneth Warkocki from Gig Harbor, Washington who is accused of throwing beer cans at officers. He was charged with California Penal Code Section (PC) 240/241 assault on a peace officer and PC 148 (a) resisting arrest; 20 year-old Andrew Terrell from Santee who is accused of throwing 4-5 beer cans at officers and picking up a horseshoe stake inciting a violent response from the crowd. He was charged with PC69 threats on a peace officer performing duties and PC 240/241 assault on a peace officer; and 23 year-old Ricardo Guzman of San Diego who is accused of throwing a full can of beer at officers. He was charged with PC 240/241 assault on a peace officer and PC 148 resisting arrest.

All three defendants pled not guilty.
